WHAT IS DESERT DEFENDERS?

JOIN US TODAY!

Invasive species are one of the biggest threats to the health of local habitats by crowding out native species, decreasing biodiversity and increasing wildfire risk. Join the new Desert Defenders program to help us find and remove these plants!

Desert Defenders is a citizen science program focused on finding, mapping and removing invasive species at local parks and preserves using a map-based smartphone app. The data collected is crucial for park staff and land managers to best protect the desert parks we all love.
